INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

The Portfolio aims to provide capital growth over the medium to long term, generating returns by investing in a diversified range of assets across the global multi-asset spectrum. The portfolio invests in both active and passive funds across a wide range of asset classes.

INVESTMENT APPROACH

To achieve the Investment Objectives, we use extensive research techniques that shape our macro-economic views and select funds where we believe they can add value. In addition, we maintain a constant exposure to our own multi-asset managed funds, which adds further diversification and risk control.

WHO THIS PORTFOLIO IS SUITABLE FOR

This portfolio is suitable for all types of retail and professional customers that are receiving advice from a financial adviser. As you will be investing in stock market-based investments, you should be prepared to invest for a minimum of 5 years. The portfolio is designed to generate growth but does not provide any form of guarantee. Should the value of your investment go down you should be in a financial position such that this will not have the effect of a reduction in your standard of living. Your financial adviser will determine the most appropriate portfolio based on your risk profile. We do not offer any investments that come with no investment risk or are very high risk, this means that the value of your investment may go down as well as up.

PERFORMANCE Time Period: 04/06/20 – 30/11/24

Until 1st September 2022, portfolios were managed under the regulatory permissions of the firm that is now acting as investment adviser to Rockhold Asset Management. From this point they became managed by Rockhold Asset Management with the same charging structure. Returns shown are based upon GBP Sterling and include fund and management charges but exclude platform fees and any ongoing adviser charges. Dividends & Interest reinvested.

MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

November saw buoyant stock markets and Donald Trump's decisive victory in the U.S. presidential election. Markets rallied on optimism surrounding pro-business policies, with equities hitting new highs and cryptocurrencies advancing. Surprisingly, U.S. Treasury yields fell from 4.4% to 4.2%, defying inflationary expectations. The dollar index (an index of the value of the dollar against a basket of currencies) surged, as geopolitical tensions eased, including a Lebanon ceasefire and hopes for U.S.-Russia compromise on Ukraine.

A second Trump presidency signals deregulation, onshoring, and economic growth, with bold targets like 3% real GDP growth and energy expansion. Key reforms in immigration and healthcare, led by prominent loyalists, promise dramatic policy shifts. Mr Scott Bessent, the proposed Treasury Secretary, will target a "3-3-3" policy; 3% real GDP growth, 3 million more barrels of oil production per day and a 3% budget deficit – which the markets have certainly initially applauded. However, once in the office, we will gauge the implementation of such policies. We are cognizant of the debt servicing costs and issuance policy changes that may come with the new administration.

At home the economic outlook appears bleak. Inflation rose to 2.3%, GDP growth slowed to 0.1%, and private sector output shrank for the first time in a year. Chancellor Rachel Reeves's borrowing plans and higher employer costs have triggered job cuts and stalled expansions, while green policies forced major factory closures. Bond yields hit 4.53%, reflecting investor concerns. Labour's growth ambitions have struggled, prompting caution on increasing UK allocations at this time.

Europe's outlook remains mixed, with weak industrial performance (e.g., VW profits down 64%) and rising unemployment. Bright spots include Novo Nordisk in pharma and Siemens Energy, outperforming Nvidia on energy infrastructure demand. Japan's stock market has performed well, but future growth may slow as the yen weakens and the Bank Of Japan balances inflation, currency, and growth. China's modest stimulus struggles to revive its economy, with limited benefits to equities. Emerging markets face challenges from dollar strength. Gold steadied at $2,600, while Bitcoin surged toward $100,000. Copper remains subdued, reflecting weak global demand evidenced by the Global Manufacturing PMIs, while uranium prices diverge from energy equities. In November, we trimmed Japanese equities after meeting targets, reallocating to cash. Portfolios performed well, anticipating 2025 growth under supportive U.S. policies. Positioned cautiously amid optimistic equity valuations.
