INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

The Portfolio aims to provide capital growth over the medium to long term, generating returns by investing in low cost Socially Responsible Investing 'SRI' Funds with a focus on positive screening factors, Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) considerations and UN Sustainable Development Goals 'SDG'.

INVESTMENT APPROACH

To achieve the Investment Objectives, we use extensive research techniques that shape our macro-economic views and select funds where we believe they can add value. Where we don't believe a suitable active fund is available, we retain the flexibility to use passive funds. Non screened funds may be used for the purpose of maintaining diversification, provided they satisfy our avoidance criteria.

WHO THIS PORTFOLIO IS SUITABLE FOR

This portfolio is suitable for all types of retail and professional customers that are receiving advice from a financial adviser. It is specifically designed for those investors who wish their portfolio to be managed in sustainable investments. This may mean that level of return or the risk experienced may be higher or lower than experienced by a non-sustainable investor. As you will be investing in stock market-based investments, you should be prepared to invest for a minimum of 5 years. The portfolio is designed to generate growth but does not provide any form of guarantee. Should the value of your investment go down you should be in a financial position such that this will not have the effect of a reduction in your standard of living. Your financial adviser will determine the most appropriate portfolio based on your risk profile. We do not offer any investments that come with no investment risk or are very high risk.

MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

November saw buoyant stock markets and Donald Trump's decisive victory in the U.S. presidential election. Markets rallied on optimism surrounding pro-business policies, with equities hitting new highs and cryptocurrencies advancing. Surprisingly, U.S. Treasury yields fell from 4.4% to 4.2%, defying inflationary expectations. The dollar index (an index of the value of the dollar against a basket of currencies) surged, as geopolitical tensions eased, including a Lebanon ceasefire and hopes for U.S.-Russia compromise on Ukraine.

A second Trump presidency signals deregulation, onshoring, and economic growth, with bold targets like 3% real GDP growth and energy expansion. Key reforms in immigration and healthcare, led by prominent loyalists, promise dramatic policy shifts. Mr Scott Bessent, the proposed Treasury Secretary, will target a "3-3-3" policy; 3% real GDP growth, 3 million more barrels of oil production per day and a 3% budget deficit – which the markets have certainly initially applauded. However, once in the office, we will gauge the implementation of such policies. We are cognizant of the debt servicing costs and issuance policy changes that may come with the new administration.

At home the economic outlook appears bleak. Inflation rose to 2.3%, GDP growth slowed to 0.1%, and private sector output shrank for the first time in a year. Chancellor Rachel Reeves's borrowing plans and higher employer costs have triggered job cuts and stalled expansions, while green policies forced major factory closures. Bond yields hit 4.53%, reflecting investor concerns. Labour's growth ambitions have struggled, prompting caution on increasing UK allocations at this time.

Europe's outlook remains mixed, with weak industrial performance (e.g., VW profits down 64%) and rising unemployment. Bright spots include Novo Nordisk in pharma and Siemens Energy, outperforming Nvidia on energy infrastructure demand. Japan's stock market has performed well, but future growth may slow as the yen weakens and the Bank Of Japan balances inflation, currency, and growth. China's modest stimulus struggles to revive its economy, with limited benefits to equities. Emerging markets face challenges from dollar strength. Gold steadied at $2,600, while Bitcoin surged toward $100,000. Copper remains subdued, reflecting weak global demand evidenced by the Global Manufacturing PMIs, while uranium prices diverge from energy equities. In November, we trimmed Japanese equities after meeting targets, reallocating to cash. Portfolios performed well, anticipating 2025 growth under supportive U.S. policies. Positioned cautiously amid optimistic equity valuations.
